A talking gun treatment

“There comes a point where a person has to be accountable for what he’s done. Can’t go making excuses, blaming other people or other things.” - Jeffrey Dahmer, 1994

A news broadcast recounts the events of a school shooting. They credit the boys fatherlessness as the reason for his outrage.

The broadcast is being watched by a group of teenagers. They joke about how their school will likely be next. They begin to joke about who in there is school is mostly likely to be a school shooter. They eventually settle on vincent.

Vincent sits in the corner of the lunchroom staring at cheerleaders. The girls are audibly creeped out by him. A football jock asks one out with zero sense of respect, and she says yes on the promise of weed.

Vincent's inner dialogue begins. He describes how much he hates the jocks in his school. The girls have no sense of what a good man is, and if he only had a bigger dick they would let him treat them right.

He goes on to discuss how he doesn't like school in general. He describes his school as pitiful. The only reason it’s on anyones map is the propane powered hotdog venders at the football games. How the books bore him. How the teachers give him shitty grades. How he would much rather be outside doing what he wants.

He watches a trailer for a new Kill Everyone movie. While watching the protagonist shoot through hundreds of people, he imagines himself as the action hero. But now he is at his school shooting the teachers and jocks he loathes. He blows up the school at the end of his fantasy.

He comes home and his traditional parents, blissfully unaware of their kids fantasy, ask him how his school was. Vincent has no response and goes upstairs.

Vincent goes online and browses a red pill forum, a gun website, Jordan Peterson and porn and eats junk food. Looks in the mirror at his pot belly. All while monologs that his fantasies will become reality. His mother calls and informs him he got a package.

She asks what it is and he says it s a textbook and runs off.

He inboxes and unwraps his package to reveal a gun. He puts the gun in his backpack, along with some soda cans from a trash pile in a trash bin in his room.
He takes his new gun to a secretive location. He stacks some soda cans on a tree stump. He aims and fires. He fires multiple times and gets a hit on the 5th shot. Bullseye he says. A bird that Flys onto a tree branch. Vincent grins and aims the gun. Right as he is about to fire, he hears a voice that's says Dont!. Vincent, confused, looks around for the source of the outcry.

The voice clarifies, "in your hand, I'm talking to you" Vincent looks at his gun, two eyes and a mouth appear. "Please don't shoot the bird. I don't want to kill anything" Vincent drops the gun to which it says ouch when hitting the ground. Vincent rapprochement the gun.

You can talk
Yeah I can talk
How can you talk
I don't know I just can
How long have you been able to talk.
One day I just woke up, I can't explain it.
How come you didn't talk before?
I don't like to draw attention to myself. I only spoke cause I don't want to kill anything.
Your a gun!
Yeah, so?
Guns kill!
Well I don't want to.

Vincent picks up the gun with two fingers.

I must be going crazy

Vincent places the gun into backpack. The gun is pleading with Vincent to not use him to kill anything and then his voice is muffle day the backpack eventually going quiet.

Vincent returns home. His mother calls out, We are having BLTs tonight. Vincent goes to bed, falls asleep. He wakes back up. He opens up his backpack and sees th gun, holds it. It doesn't move.

Just as I thought, it was a dream.
Hey there! I heard you had BLTs last night!
Vincent panics and puts the gun between his bed cushions.

He heads to school in a daze not sure if he lives in reality anymore. He sits through classes Zoned out from the subjects. Then, he gets a tap on his shoulder.

A pretty girl wearing a turtle neck.
Hey, I am so sorry, what the answer to question 12?
B…
Okay, thank you.

Vincent looks at the girls paper and notices a doodle of his favorite action hero.

Vincent asks if she likes the franchise. She says yes, and that some of her girlfreinds make fun of her because they are Dick flicks. But she thinks the lead actor is hot and the movies are fun.

Vincent is about to ask the girl to hangout when her Boyfreind calls her.

They exchange sexual innuendo on the promise of weed.

Vincent is triggered into another episode of psychotic thoughts. All girls are slurs and he's better than them. He marches home, ignore his parents. Goes right for his gun.

He pulls it out. I don't care what you want, I'm using you how I want.

No don't do this, there has to be another way.

It cost me an arm and a leg to order you, I am not spending the expense of another gun just so I dont have one that talks.

Could you Kills something with like a knife or dagger, or a club. It's not one person. There are a few people I want dead.

People!

Yeah, all the cucks at my school. I'll show them a real alpha male.

Vincent's mom knocks on the door. Vincent who are your talking to?

Mom! I'm just watching YouTube.

Vincent stuffs the gun in his bag and run out. He returns to the secluded stump.

Vincent takes out the gun

Vincent and the gun talk about their wants. Vincent explains he he hates his teachers calls the girls in his school skanks, and hates the guys too. The gun explains that despite being an object of murder, it doesn't want to. Ultimately the gun has no control of its body, so it can only beg for Vincent's mercy.
The gun asks if Vincstn has any freinds. He asks if Vincent has a girlfreind, to which Vincent talks about the turtle neck girl he kinda likes. The gun offers Vincent an alternative. What if I help you study and improve yourself and in turn he doesn't kill anyone. Vincent looks at the gun. The Fall School Dance is in one month, and if the gun can't improve his life in that time, he is killing everyone at the dance.

The gun says the first thing they will do is change Vincent's unhealthy diet. To lay off the chips and a soda.

The gun finds a way to get Vincent into his books and improve his grades.

The gun advices Vincent to shave and remove his neck beard

The gun gives vincent advice on asking talking to people. Vincent ends up becoming increasingly good friends weith Turtle Neck. Thorough the friendship, vincent learns the turtle necks boyfriend and her are much less close then he thought. Vincent even shows Chad and TN the private feild he goes to as a good place to stash drugs, earning their trust.

Vincent asks the Gun where it got such good dating advice. The Gun talks about how it used to have a Machine Gun Girlfreind. They used to sit the same box togetgor, and were even next to each other on a gun shelf. He talks about how they always wanted a way to leave their situation, start a family, watch sunsets togethor. But then one day he was taken off the shelf and he never saw the machine gun again.

Through Vincent's connection with Turtle Neck and Chad he ends up with a date with a cheerleader. They go to a movie and the girl spends the time openly texting and on ticktock while the movie plays. Thus leads to an argument when it ends. This leads to Vincent taking his gun out to the feild again to shoot targets.

Turtle Neck shows up unexpectedly and when she sees the gun she unroll her collar to reveal bruises. So you see,, do a dear Mann parody. She has been getting physically abused by her boyffeindand hasn't been able to do anything because his father is a the head of the police department. She once tried to kill him with a knife but couldn't work up the willpower. But she think she could do it with a gun. You really shouldn't judge someone like efore you get to know them.

Vincent and Gun protest both explaining how the gun doesn't want to be used for murder. TN eventually takes the gun wearing gloves to avoid finger prints and hits Vincent on the head with it, knocking him out. She runs to the school football feild where a game is occurring.
As TN runs to the school, as the gun pleads with her to not use him to shoot someone, TN tells the gun he better shut up and that if anyone else finds out he can speak he will get melted down.

The football game is playing, and the location is established with two parents talking about how there is too much violence in the world and there is nothing better then a safe sports game. Two football players butt heads.

Vincent eventually catches up. TN runs onto the field midgame. Chad looks at her and yells “Babe, get the fuck off the feild”
Vincent runs up behind TN and attempts to tackle her. In mid tackle, she extends the gun and fires at chad, bullseyeing him through his head.

Vincent and TN begin wrestling each other. A football player holds chad body in his arms and begins to cry.

As Vincent and TN wrestle the gun is fired five more times and hits three more people.

When authorities arrive, Vincent is found holding the gun and blood on his hands. Vincent protests that it wasn't him. TN says that Vince has been abusing her and killed Chad out of jealousy. Vincent tells the police that the gun can speak but the gun is now uncomveniently silent.

A news report plays recounting events, this time blaming the situation and blood bath on violent video games.
